■ By the law(Foreign Exchange and Foreign Trade Act), many Japanese banks are now strictly required to verify remittances to 'non-resident' bank accounts.

■ Therefore, in many cases, additional confirmations from the bank regarding the detail of payment are added.

■ Please note that this procedure may delay the deposit to your bank account by a few business days beyond the scheduled date.

■ After 6 months from the date of entry into Japan, it is possible to change the status of 'residence'.

■ Please make sure to change your account settings to 'resident' status at the bank counter. If you change your status, the deposit to your account will not be delayed.
